

Gareth Doherty

Director of the Master in Landscape Architecture Program
Harvard University Graduate School of Design

Roberto Burle Marx, Landscape and Chromatic Relationships

Guest Lecture

Preceded by "Figures on the Ground," an introduction by Philip Ursprung

Dean of the Department of Architecture
ETH Zurich

Followed by an apéro riche at Case Studio VOGT

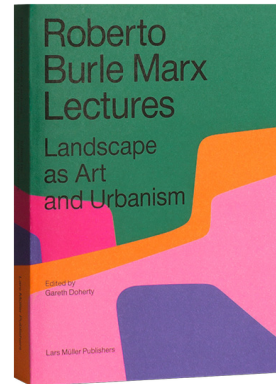

Stampfenbachstrasse 59
8006 Zurich

Tuesday
May 15, 2018
18:00–19:30

ETH Zurich
Hönggerberg
HIL E3

"It is not sufficient to plan for appropriate green areas; it is necessary to understand them in relation to the urban landscape."

"The Landscape Architect in the World, Today," in: Roberto Burle Marx: Landscape as Art and Urbanism (edited by Gareth Doherty, with photographs by Leonardo Finotti), Lars Müller Publishers Zurich, 2018, p. 229.

Gareth Doherty will be signing his new volume. A selection of related books from Helene Lehmann's Calligramme Bookstore will be available to purchase.

Due to a limited number of places please reserve before May 11 with gebert@nsl.ethz.ch

After the lecture a direct bus from ETH Hönggerberg to Case Studio Vogt will be organised.

From HB Zurich take tram no. 11 to Bucheggplatz (direction Auzelg) and change to Bus no. 69 (direction ETH Hönggerberg). Journey time: 25 Minutes

VOGT

Vogt Landscape
Zurich Berlin London Paris
www.vogt-la.com

ETH zürich

Chair of Günther Vogt, Institute for Landscape Architecture, ETH Zurich
www.vogt.arch.ethz.ch

Lars Müller Publishers

www.lars-mueller-publishers.com